The School of the Built Environment at Oxford Brookes University produces internationally recognised research, offers highly innovative programmes of study with outstanding teaching, and strong industry links for long-lasting and rewarding careers. It produces high calibre graduates with the deep and broad range of skills necessary to succeed at the highest levels in the real estate, planning, urban design, and construction industry sectors.

What is the Real Estate Investment Finance programme?

The Real Estate Investment Finance (REIF) programme has been developed for professionals working in the real estate and capital market who would like to gain a better understanding of the real estate investment marketplace and is ideal for asset or fund managers, investment bankers, project managers, valuers, developers or analysts. The REIF programme is offered at three levels:

- Certificate (non-credit bearing)
- Postgraduate Diploma (PG Diploma)
- Master of Science (MSc – accredited by the RICS)

The Certificate, PG Diploma and MSc share the four core modules. Each core module has been designed around six learning packages allowing students to work at their own pace and keep track of their learning. To reflect the practical focus of the programme, progress in each module is assessed through a combination of online tests, workbooks, problem solving, analysis and report writing.

The four core modules are:

- The Real Estate Investment Market
- Applied Real Estate Valuation
- Real Estate Finance and Investment
- Legal and Regulatory Considerations

There are two additional modules for the MSc:

- Applied Research Methods
- MSc Dissertation
An online community

Studying online offers many benefits to students, including the ability to study when and where you like and to work at your own pace, but it also means that students can sometimes feel isolated. We aim to create an online community for our students in which they can share their knowledge and experiences. When joining the REIF programme, students create an online profile, so they introduce themselves to others. We hold a number of online sessions during each module, bringing students and staff together in a virtual environment for presentations and question and answer sessions. There are also opportunities to meet at the Network Seminars. To support you on a day-to-day basis, there will always be a member of staff available online via email or through the virtual learning environment. This ensures that you are supported and are at the centre of the online community.
