Application Procedure for:

- Wilkinson Scholarship in Development and Emergency Practice

Applicants must apply for a scholarship at the same time as, or subsequent to, applying for one of the named Master's degrees listed in this document:

- Applicants must complete the appropriate Scholarship Application Form (Google Form Link on Scholarship Page.) Applicants should complete the application form once only, indicating all scholarships they wish to apply for – applicants must however check their eligibility and required criteria for each.
  - a) Scholarship applications must be accompanied by a personal statement in the section provided which must clearly identify why the applicant believes they are deserving of the scholarship
  - b) The deadline for receipt of a scholarship application is 11.59pm (23:59 GMT) on Monday 30 May 2022 for entry to the programme in September 2022.
- The Faculty's postgraduate scholarships are awards made towards tuition fees only. It is therefore important that applicants clearly identify how they intend to raise the additional funding necessary to cover living costs, travel, textbooks, other ancillary costs and any additional fees, should the tuition fees be higher than the amount of scholarship available.
- Applicants failing to comply with these procedures will not be considered for the scholarship.
- Candidates should be notified if they have been successful by 4th July 2022.

Selection Criteria

The scholarships will be awarded on a competitive basis of academic merit and applications are assessed in relation to:

- academic merit
- how the applicant's chosen degree programme relates to their career ambitions
- personal development explaining why the applicant believes they are deserving of the scholarship

Selection Process

1. The Scholarship Committee of the Faculty of Technology, Design and Environment will be responsible for the allocation of the scholarships identified in this leaflet. The decision of the Committee in awarding the scholarships is final and the Committee will not enter into discussion regarding decisions.

2. When allocating awards, the Scholarship Committee will take account of:
  - applicant's performance in examinations and other formal assessments at first degree level. (In the case of final year undergraduates, the Committee will take into consideration the applicant's expected results, as indicated by their referees. (Conditional offers of scholarships will only be confirmed if applicants achieve satisfactory results.);
  - work experience and professional qualifications, if appropriate;
  - applicant's personal statements about their intended programme of study and their reasons and purposes for undertaking it. This is an important part of the application, and the Committee will pay particular attention to what applicants write in their personal statements.
  - references supporting the applicant's programme applications;
  - supporting statements from programme tutors to which the applicant has applied, where applicable.
3. A reserve list may be drawn up in case any of the selected applicants do not take up the offer of a scholarship. The Committee will also monitor student progress, in the case of part-time scholarships awarded for two years.

Deadlines

The Faculty must receive all completed scholarship applications by 11.59pm (23:59 GMT) on Monday 30 May 2022. Applications must be made through the appropriate google form. Successful applicants will be informed by email of the Committee's decision by 4th July 2022 (TBC). Applicants who are offered a scholarship must indicate by 7 July 2021 whether they wish to accept the offer of a scholarship. Applicants failing to notify the Faculty of their intention to take up the offer of a scholarship by the deadline of 8 July 2022 will forfeit the scholarship. Scholarship offers not accepted by the deadline will be withdrawn and re-allocated to the next applicant on the scholarship reserve list.

No late applications will be accepted.
