

Current students Need somewhere to live next year?

Take the time to find the right accommodation for you. We have rooms in halls and shared houses available for current students.

Bookings for 2022/23 open in February 2022

Living in halls

We have availability in selected halls for second, third and fourth-year students returning in September. The prices and contract dates for the 2022/23 academic year will be updated online in January.

Choose from blocks and halls reserved exclusively for returning students

Book individually or reserve a flat with your friends

Hall rent packages include your utility bills, contents insurance and travel on the Brookes buses

Booking

When bookings open, log onto the Accommodation Portal and go to 'application/booking'. Follow the steps to select and reserve your room.

Once the online process is completed Brookes halls are reserved immediately (partnership halls will contact you within one week to finish the booking process).

Brookes halls do not require any upfront payments but our partnership halls do. Please check the webpage for each partnership hall to see what you'll need to pay.

Living with Friends

Pairs or groups of friends are welcome to live together in halls for their second, third or fourth year.

You'll all need to book your rooms individually but you can each choose a different room in the same flat (e.g. flat 1, rooms a, b and c).

Please see the Current Students page on our website for all the current student halls

Shared housing

No deposit needed – unlike lettings agents, we don't charge a deposit.

Save money – our average room costs 18% less than the average room from a private letting agency.

A fair contract – we won't hold you responsible for your housemates' rent.

Flexible – you can move between Brookes properties if a vacancy comes up.

Housing fair

We will be running a housing fair on 25 January 2022 which is when the full housing list is released.

We'll email all eligible students to invite them to attend. From this point onwards you'll be able to go and visit the properties which interest you.

Our properties

If you would like the independence of living in your own house or flat, but the convenience and security of living in university-managed accommodation, a Brookes Lettings property is a great option.
