

Anthropology (Joint Honours)

Discover human ancestry, evolution and environmental challenges whilst also exploring cultures, values and norms in societies all around the world through Biological and Social Anthropology.

	Semester 1	Semester 2
YEAR 1	Introduction to Social Anthropology An introduction to key theoretical approaches and concepts Deep History Turn back time and discover the prehistoric past	Introduction to Biological Anthropology How did we become human? Introduction to Japanese Society and Culture Immerse yourself in the unique Japanese society and culture Primate Societies Explore the diversity of primate species and their social behaviour
YEAR 2	Social Anthropology Theory What makes us human? Explore the relationships between ourselves and others Human Evolutionary Biology Explore human evolution over the last 7 million years Primate Adaptation and Evolution Why did primates become so successful?	Methods and Analysis in Biological Anthropology Learn how the scientific method applies to biological anthropology Research Methods in Social Anthropology A practical module about the methods used in social anthropology Anthropology of Ritual Discover ritual as a universal feature of human social behaviour
YEAR 3	Dissertation or Interdisciplinary Dissertation Your chance to research an area of anthropology that interests you and combine it with your other subject if you wish
	Material Lives: Money and Livelihoods in Contemporary Africa Social and economic transformations in Africa Anthropology Independent Study Research a question or a topic that fascinates you Cognitive Evolution Why did the human mind evolve?	Anthropology of Development Study the relationship between anthropology and international development Anthropology Independent Study Research a question or a topic that fascinates you Dawn of Civilisation Is geography destiny, or do human societies decide their own fate?