ILM Level 7 Certificate for Executive and Senior Level Coaches and Mentors

This ILM accredited course offers you the flexibility to study for your ILM qualification by attending seminars in Oxford approximately once a month while working with clients/volunteers, conducting your own guided reading and preparing assignments.

The course is delivered over a six-month period and covers three ILM Units (14 Level 7 credits):

- Understanding the Principles and Practice of Effective Coaching and Mentoring at an Executive or Senior Level
- Undertaking Coaching or Mentoring at an Executive or Senior Level
- Reflecting on Your Ability to Perform Effectively as a Coach or Mentor at an Executive or Senior Level

Who is it for?

The qualification is for senior managers or Human Resources (HR)/Organisation Development (OD) professionals who wish to develop their expertise and credibility in the fields of Executive and Senior level coaching and mentoring, or to establish coaching at an organisational level. It is also ideal for professional coaches and mentors seeking to enhance and accredit their experience with a nationally recognised qualification.

The course can help you gain access to our MA in Coaching and Mentoring Practice if you don't have an undergraduate degree. Read more about ILM:

Entry Requirements

As this course provides a level 7 qualification which is equivalent to postgraduate level study, you will be expected to reflect and write at this level – this will typically be evidenced by an undergraduate degree or equivalent and/or senior level managerial experience. You will have experience in executive coaching/mentoring in a leadership/ managerial position. You will need to be able to identify clients to coach/mentor who are working at a strategic level in organisations. If you are new to coaching/ mentoring, you are advised to take the ILM Level 5 programme which is also provided at Brookes. Please ask for details.
